Rules of Thumb

- Discuss siting of your facilities early in the process
- The higher the required reliability and voltage the higher the cost
- Strive for transmission lines under 1 mile
- Transmission lines over 1 mile may add significant time to the project

Case Study

New Pumping Facility

- 3 MW load next to existing 138 kV transmission line
- Customer requested transmission service - approximate cost $5 million for turn-in and HS
- ETI was able to serve the load out of an existing substation ~ 4 miles away that had adequate transformer capacity. Saving about $4 million.
